Police Seek More Victims After Bunce Guilty Plea

With John H. Bunce Jr., 34, of Orinda having pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft and operating as a stock broker without a license, the Oakland Police Department this week asked that all persons who have had stock dealings with Bunce to come forward.

The request for such persons to make their experiences with Bunce known to the authorities was issued Wedensday by Oakland Police Inspector Lester King in the wake of accusations that "soft handling" was marking the case.

Bunce pleaded guilty on Monday, before Oakland Municipal Judge Edward J. Smith, to the two charges. The charges involved only one complaint, that of Arthur J. Johnson, Walnut Creek realtor, who charged that Bunce had failed to return $20,000 which Johnson gave him last June to make a quick-profit stock deal.

JUDGE SMITH certified Bunce to Alameda County Superior Court for sentence. The former stock broker and World War II bomber pilot, whose home is at 14 Cascade Lane, Orinda, surrendered to police early last week. He failed to make $10,000 bail and was held in jail.

The "soft handling" accusation was by Walnut Creek City Attorney John A. Nejedly, acting as a private attorney, who stated he had been told by Oakland police and an Olameda County deputy district attorney that "they didn't want any more complaints—one was enough."

King said that to date he knew of 16 persons who have reported losses of $316,478 thorugh Bunce, and the inspector estimated that at least 40 persons with similar losses may bring the swindle-losses figure up to $500,000.

NEJEDLY represented Dr. Edward Moore, a Walnut Creek dentist of 3314 Freeman Road, who claims he lost $10,000 in his dealings with Bunce. The attorney stated that Dr. Moore had not been allowed to sign a complaint against Bunce.

Bunce appeared Wednesday before Federal Bankruptcy Referee Bernard A. Abbrott on involuntary bankruptcy proceedings filed against him by three Contra Cost County men—Edgar F. Sawyer, George T. J. Towle and Dr. Thomas Sorenson—who stated they had turned over $85,901 to Bunce for purchase of securities which he never bought.

Dr. Moore was one of the 16 reported victims listed by Inspector King.

Bunce was vice-president of Pacific States Securities Corporation of Oakland.

Deputy District Attorney Edward O'Neil of Alameda County stated that justice would be served by one complaint, since others would go to the probation office for consideration.

INSPECTOR KING stressed he is still investigating the entire matter and that reports from all persons having had dealings with Bunce are desired by the district attorney's office so that a complete file can be obtained.

"At the time the original complaint was issued, that was the only complaint which had been investigated and was ready for action," O'Neil said.

"When other evidence was assembled the complete summary could be submitted as part of a probation report for the court."

Nejedly declared that the number of people willing to sign complaints should be taken into consideration when Bunce comes up for sentences and again for parole.

INSPECTOR KING listed the following as having reported the losses indicated, through dealings with Bunce:

Arthur J. Johnson, 1529 Cypress Street, Walnut Creek, $20,000; Jack J. Buchter, 61 Moraga Highway, Orinda, an architect, $72,375; Edgar P. Sawyer, 4015 Canyon Road, Lafayette, real estate investment man, $65,412; John H. Russell, Diablo, a Trans-Ocean Airlines pilot, $48,000; Henry A. Sattler, 4081 Concord Boulevard, Concord furniture and appliance store owner, $11,250.

Miss Mary Jane Lewis, Los Angeles, Ice Follies Dance director, $23,871; Paul Haller, 1000 Walnut Drive, Lafayette, a builder, $19,400; Walter R. Couse, 18 Las Palomas, Orinda, a fiber glass products salesman, $10,340; William S. Riggs, 226 Sierra Drive, Walnut Creek, real estate salesman, $4337; Mrs. Lena Higholt, 2133 Damuth Street, Oakland, a widow and clerk, $6000.

Francis Barcroft, 2000 Mira Vista Drive, Emeryville, $1530; Dr. Edward A. Moore, 3314 Freeman Road, Walnut Creek, $10,000; Reuben F. Juntila, 6407 Lagunitas Avenue, El Cerrito, insurance agent, $1125; Raymond Flores, 80 Kissling Street, Oakland, bar owner, $2024; Arthur V. Flores, of 225 Hale Street, San Francisco, grocery store owner, $4724; Beckett and Federighi, building contractors, 1441 Franklin Street, Oakland, $16,000.

Borough Meeting Stresses Local Control of Affairs

Local control of local affairs was stressed at the Wednesday night meeting of the Central Contra Costa Community Council on Borough government at Fair Oaks School, Pleasant Hill, Wednesday night.

Approximately 40 residents of communities from Orinda to Clayton attended the meeting seeking the possibility of the formation of a borough form of government for the central county area.

The group moved that a study was the only way in which to obtain the positive information needed and another meeting will be called by president Joe McFarland in the near future to discuss methods of financing a study program.

Stanley Scott of the University of California Bureau of Public Administration outlined the general law and various applications of the Borough system. He noted the borough system dates back approximately 1000 years to England.

Advantages pointed out to the group concerning the system were centralized government, one manager for the area, one planning commission with authority extended to individual boroughs, borough councilmen who would be elected and directly responsible to their electors.

Scott pointed out the system should be referred to as federation rather than a group of boroughs since each would have its separate identity and control with the benefits of centralized purchasing and power.

The Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce opposed the idea from the standpoint of forming a third level of government.

"There is the city and county government, why a third form,?" they asked.

Other participating in the meeting were Bill Zion of the Lafayette Improvement Association who chaired the discussion, and supervisors Ray Taylor and Mel Nielsen.

Taxpayer's Group Urges Cutting 11 District Courts

Recommendations of the Contra Costa Taxpayers Association asking 11 district courts be eliminated were answered by the County Bar Association in a letter to the Board of Supervisors urging caution before moving.

Harry Morrison, secretary of the taxpayer group, urged the group Tuesday to chop the number of lower courts in the county from 17 to six.

The tax unit seeks to consolidate the four muni judges in the San Pablo-Richmond area to two and to get rid of the justice in El Cerirto. Other courts which would be affected would be a combination court to serve the Martinez, Concord, Port Chicago area.

A muni court for the Antioch, Pittsburg, Clayton area. Enlarged facilities for the justice courts in Walnut Creek, Pinole and Brentwood.

Elimination of the present courts in Crockett, Rodeo, Port Costa, Danville and Byron.

The bar association urged not only consultation with them but expressed its determination to fully study the issue before taking any action.

The board of supervisors said it would study the matter very closely prior to action.

PG&E Asks Gas Rate Increases

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has asked for an increase in rates which would add approximately 30 cents per month on the gas bill of the average domestic customer.

The company filed an application with the Public Utilities Company. The PG&E has already filed for rate increase for commercial gas users and domestic electric rates.

The commercial boost would bring the company approximately $6 million and electrical increases would bring in about $19 million. All the requests are pending.

TYING OLD NEWSPAPERS at the main Orinda fire station on Avenida De Orinda in Orinda Village are, left to right, Firemen George Wall, Thomas Gannon and Paul Lucas. The stacks of papers show why the fire department has had to limit its acceptance of old newspapers to those turned in by Orinda people. And you'll help the department a great deal if you tie the papers in bundles before bringing them to the main station for disposal. Gas War Continues Prices Drop Again In SF, Here Too

Contra Costa's on again - off again gas war took an other dizzy spin this week as gas prices dropped again in San Francisco and other West Bay communities.

Price signs in cut rate stations 29.9 cents per gallon. Premium dropped to 27.9 per gallon from 29.9 cents per gallon. Premium gasoline remained about the same, 33.9

SOME STATIONS have entered the gas war with their regular gasoline but have maintained their Ethyl prices at 36.9 cents per gallon.

Regular price for gasoline, according to distributors, is 33.7 for regular and 36.9 for premium.

Stations in Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill continued to keep prices ta 26.9 for regular and anywhere from 33 cents to 36.9 cents for Ethyl.

Commuters to Oakland found many stations selling gas there from 26.8 to 29.9 cents per gallon for regular and premium gas ranging from 20 to 36 cents per gallon.

IN THE LAFAYETTE area prices remained at 29.9 to 32.6 for the regular and 31.7 to 36.9 for Ethyl brands. Orinda prices were similar.

The newest break in the gas war was reported along Mission Street in San Francisco early in the week.

New Weed Ordinance In Effect

Fire marshals of Contra Costa County have the authority to abate public nuisances or fire hazards caused by the overgrowth of weeds because of a weed control ordinance psssed by the county board of supervisors.

In the past only the cities of the county had weed control ordinances, but now, the jurisdiction of control has been given to marshals in the unincorporated areas.

It will be the responsibility of the local fire marshal to decide whether or not overgrowth is a hazard. He has the authority to cite property owners for overgrowth and if it is not cleaned up to abate the weeds and charge the owner for the expenses incured by the marshal or his appointed representative.

The ordinance went into effect recently and fire chiefs of the Mt. Diablo Fire Protection District and the Central Fire District have already taken steps to rid their areas of heavy overgrowths of weeds which constitute a fire hazard.

Both the Mt. Diablo chief and Central Fire Chief had had the authority to clean up overgrowths in the cities of Concord and Walnut Creek but had no authority, for example, in Pleasant Hill.

Both the Orinda and Lafayette Fire Districts are expected to take steps in the near future for the control of weeds and overgrowth in those communities, according to Robert Winkel of Lafayette and William Kock, of Orinda, Fire Marshals.

Sheriff's Reserve Row to be Aired By Supervisors

Approximately 18 sheriff's reserve deputies turned in their badges and indentification cards Monday because of a dispute over working hours with the sheriff, according to John Jagard, undersheriff.

Jagard noted he will ask each of the officers who quit to appear before the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors that the entire matter may be aired in the open.

"I WANT THIS matter to be discussed in the open, not behind closed doors. I think the press should inform the public of the facts behind this case," he said.

The dispute concerns outside details involving pay, including supervising dances or parties held by private organizations.

The volunteers contribute and average of 300 hours work a year without pay, assisting regular deputies on patrol, stakeouts, traffic control and similiar duties, according to Reserve Captain R. C. Henderson, who presided at Sunday night's resignation meeting.

The deputies charge the pay assignments have been given regular deputies on off duty hours, or to reserves brought in from other areas of the county.

JAGARD NOTED the reserves do not expect pay for their services since they are a volunteer unit.

The reserves, one of four units in the county, cover the area south and west of Pacheco and Pleasant Hill, extending to Orinda, San Ramon and the Alameda County line.

"The resignations won't effect police protection one bit in the areas the reserves cover," concluded Jagard.

Flu Outbreak Spreads in Central CC

Flu nearly closed one high school in Central Contra Costa County and almost every other school reported abnormally high absenteeism during the week.

Pleasant Hill High School was the hardest hit of the local schools with approximately half the 1500 student population absent.

TEACHERS IN THE various school districts didn't escape the "bug" either as 21 teachers were out in the Mt. Diablo School District alone.

Other school districts reported high absenteeism. Acalanes stated during the winter months the absenteeism figures would not be considered out of line.

Lloyd Frost, chief of the Division of Health Education, noted the disease, whether Asian Flu or some other respiratory disease, is spreading rapidly.

"The illness is so mild that many children are not seen by a doctor," he commented.

"NO COMPLICATIONS have come to our attention to date," he continued.

A reasonable supply of Asian Flu vaccine has been promised by the manufacturers in October. The public health authorities, federal state or local, are not controlling the distribution of the vaccine.

"The vaccine is distributed by the pharmaceutical companies through regular commercial channels. As long as the vaccine supply is limited, doctors will receive an allocation on the basis of population, Frost said.

No mass immunization clinics for Contra Costa County are planned by the Health Department.

"It is the concensus of national and state public health authorities that individuals who desire vaccination against Asian Flu seek care from their private physician or usual source," said care from their private physician or usual source," said Frost.

"Outbreaks of influenza in institutions or closed groups must be reported by law. Sporadic cases have not been reported for many years," Frost warned.

"THE HEALTH Department is interested in the spread of any illness including Asia Flu and hence would appreciate information of an unusual number of cases of any illness," he concluded.

Complications of the Asia Flu, as with any respiratory infection, are bronchitis, penumonia, ear infections and sinus trouble, according to a Pleasant Hill physician.

"Vaccinations for 'regular flu,' which have been on the market for several years, are of no value in combating the Asian or Adeno strains," he concluded.

The Sun contacted several area doctors asking them if they had enough vaccine to take of their practices. One commented he had none whatsoever; another doctor stated he had a small supply and expected more within the next month; another quoted his supplier as stating that he could furnish the doctor with all the vaccine he could use for his practice within two weeks.

One doctor informed The Sun there were two strains of virus which most people are suffering from at the present time. One, the so-called Asian Flue for which there is a vaccine, and the other, Adeno Virus, which is very similar to the Asian strain with the exception there is no vaccine to combat it.

Church States Its Deadline Is Tuesday

Next Tuesday is the deadline by which the Orinda Comunity Church must decide whether to sell the present church property to an undisclosed customer, Everett Howe, chairman of the church building committee, informed the Orinda Association Board of Directors Monday night.

Howe's report, offered at a regular meeting of the association board in the Orinda School auditorium, was made after considerable discussion by association directors about possibility of purchasing some East Bay Municipal Utility District land at the northwest quadrant of the Crossroads, for Comunity Center purposes.

The directors have been exploring possibility of obtaining new acreage for Community Center use, but whether they would be able to do so or not would depend on whether they sold some five and a half acres of present Orinda Community Center land—between Orinda School and the Orinda Community Church—to the church. The money received would be used by the association for the new land.

The church has offered $30,000 for the five and a half acres. It needs additional land for expansion.

ASSOCIATION DIRECTOR Bob Walpole, land committee chairman, reported that last week he, President Gene Estes, Vice-President Fred Twining and an EBMUD representative toured the northwest-quadrant land.

This land, Walpole said, is in three parcels—one of eight acres, another of six acres and still another of 32 acres.

The eight-acre parcel was tentatively offered to the association at a price of $3500 per acre, contingent upon the purchaser's developing a 600-foot-long roadway up to county standards (so that it could be taken over by the county), in which case EBMUD would give an additional adjacent acre and a half to the purchaser, without extra cost.

DIRECTOR Art Flint stressed his belief that the association board should give some sort of definite answer to the church.

The directors assured Howe of their desire to resolve the problem satisfactorily, and stated that if necessary they might hold a special meeting before next Tuesday.

In other business, the association directors:

1. HEARD A REPORT by Estes that the County Board of Supervisors in Martinez has scheduled a hearing on proposed incorporation of Orinda for 10 a.m. October 15, and that Attorney Ernest Spiegl, general chairman of the association's incorporation committee, last week deposited $250 for costs of legal-notice publication.

2. Decided to drop the idea of seeking authorization this fall from the membership to increase dues for the year after next, and to keep the proposal to increase dues as a continuing part of the studies by the committee on constitution and by-laws changes.

3. RECEIVED a report that the Orinda Library Board has retained Aitken and Collin, Berkeley architects, to design the new library building to be built on an acre and a half of land set aside for that purpose by the Orinda Association, at Orinda Highway and Irwin Way.

4. Heard Walpole report that the Orinda Library Board has some $82,000 available (out of a $120,000 goal) for construction.

Complete Area Freeways Soon, Highway Federation Urges

Highway needs of Central Contra Costa County were stressed by Chairman Elliot J. Hartman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation to the California Highway Commission at the commission's September 19 meeting in Sacramento, at which hearings were held to determine projects to be given consideration for allocation of funds for next year's budget.

First to appear on the commission's agenda, Hartman outlined a three-point priority program of urgency needed state freeway construction in this part of Contra Costa County.

Top priority was given completion of the Diablo Freeway from the west end of the Lafayette By Pass to Oakland, with second and third priorities going to additional freeway construction from Monument to Arnold Industrial Highway and from Walnut Creek to Danville, repectively.

Of greatest need, Hartman stated, was continued construction westward of the Diablo Freeway from the Lafayette By Pass to Oakland, a project requiring several years for completion. In view of the present and ever-increasing congestion on this section and the time necessary for over-all completion, it is most urgent that funds be allocated this year for at least a part of the project, Hartman said.

The most vital point at the present time, he emphasized, is the area where the heavy peak hour morning traffic from the By-Pass and from Lafayette merges, backing up cars for almost a mile and making further merging of additional traffic from Hidden Valley, Acalanes Valley and Upper Happy Valley almost impossible.

Not in itself a large project by comparison with others under construction, Hartman stated the Highway Federation considers this relatively small section from the By Pass to Orinda a "must" for construction in the coming fiscal year and that a delay of even one year would negate all the good done by recent completion of the Lafayette By Pass.

CITING A MEASURE of some relief, he called attention to elimination of the left-turn traffic in both directions by state highway engineers, who affected temporary changes routing traffic in and out of Upper Happy Valley around El Nido Rancho, but, he said, major relief from congestion in the morning peak hours can come only from additional freeway construction and an interchange at Upper Happy Valley.

While the Orinda Interchange and third lane beyond assist the morning flow of heavy traffic westward, Hartman named the tunnel area as the next bottleneck, recognizing that financing of additional tunnel construction with necessary freeways up to the tunnels on each side is a major construction job embraeing several contracts and several years for completion.

Financing of such a project, he stated, would properly come from allocation of funds to two counties instead of to one county, since the tunnels themselves lay about half in each county, with the approach freeway on the west side being entirely within Alameda County.

THE FEELING of Alameda County groups that such construction is of high priority indicates, the federation feels, that this job would find support from Alameda County rather than opposition.

The worst congestion on this section occurs during the evening peak hours eastbound traffic, which is just for too much for the capacity of two lanes, creeps bumper to bumper from Broadway in Oakland through the Temescal intersection and through the tunnel, Hartman said, adding that this everyday occurrence results in a 40 minute drive to make an off-peak 15-minute trip.

Summarizing the first priority suggestion, Hartman stated the relatively small section between Upper Happy Valley Road and Orinda is most urgent, and viewing the project as a whole, allocation of funds for a start on at least a part should be made this year and continued allocation of funds should be made in each of the following several years until the whole project is completed.

SECOND PRIORITY for allocation of funds, Hartman said, should be given the area east of the completed freeway section at Monument.

From this point, two freeways are planned, one to replace present Sign Route 21 through Pacheco to an ultimate connection with the proposed Martinez-Benicia Bridge, and the other to replace present Route 24 through Concord to connection with the completed freeway section of Sign Route 4 and 24 near Port Chicago.

The present freeway from Walnut Creek to Monument ends at the partially constructed interchange at Monument, and this is the scene of great congestion during the evening peak hours, due to fast-traveling freeway traffic suddenly being poured on the old two-lane highways, Hartman observed. An additional section of either of these two proposed freeways to Arnold Industrial Highway or even to Pacheco or Concord would greatly reduce this congestion, the federation chairman pointed out.

THIRD PRIORITY for freeway construction, the federation feels, should be accorded the area between Walnut Creek and Danville, where traffic on the present highway is very heavy and understood to be one of the heaviest California.

Hartman advised that the federation feels freeway construction is needed in this section, but because the projects given first and second priority are the more serious they should come first, since it would not serve a good purpose to move Danville-Walnut Creek traffic to Lafayette or Monument only to tie it up at either of those points.

He pointed out that the Walnut Creek - Danville section and part of the freeway proposed beyond Monument are a portion of the Federal Interstate System and under that setup funds might be available to build either of these sections at an earlier date.

HARTMAN ACKNOWLEDGED the Highway Federation is aware there is another urgent major project on US 40 from Albany to Richmond, necessary to complete the Highway 40 Freeway, and that it is a Contra Costa County project, too.

It is the federation's hope, however, that federal funds for this interstate project will be sufficient to allow other major projects in the Central Contra Costa County area it represents, Hartman said.

Concluding his presentation, Hartman admitted the federation had given the commission a list of projects which added up to a very substantial sum of money, but he stated that the federation did so with the intimate knowledge that all of these projects are urgent and necessary for the continued growth and health of Central Contra Costa County, which recent federal government statistics prove to be the fastest growing area in the United States.

AT THE CONCLUSION of his address, Commission Chairman Frank Durkee stated the Highway Commission was quite aware of the congestion and highway deficiencies of Central Contra Costa County through the commissioners' own visits, the reports of District IV engineers of the State Division of Highways and the information provided by the Hghway Federation, and that these needs would be in mind when the commission prepares the next year's allocations, which would be announced at its October meeting.

Accompanying Hartman to Sacramento were Mrs. Hartman and Federation Directors Otto Strobel, representing the Pleasant Hill Civic Council, and Edward M. Rowland, delegate from the Reliez Valley Improvement Association and past chairman of the federation.

New School Bids Opened; Study Required

Eight bids for the job of constructing a new eight classroom elemenatry school southwest of Rheem Center were opened Monday night by the Moraga School Board, but awarding of a contract has been deferred.

The three lowest bids ranged from $294,000 to $305,700. They will be taken to Sacramento for study with state officials.

The original estimate was $270,000, but board members said that the State Allocations Board will make additional funds available.

Cost of sewer installation and other secondary items had not been figured into the original estimate.

The work will probably begin on about November 1 on the 10-acre site on Donald Drive, southeast of Rheem.

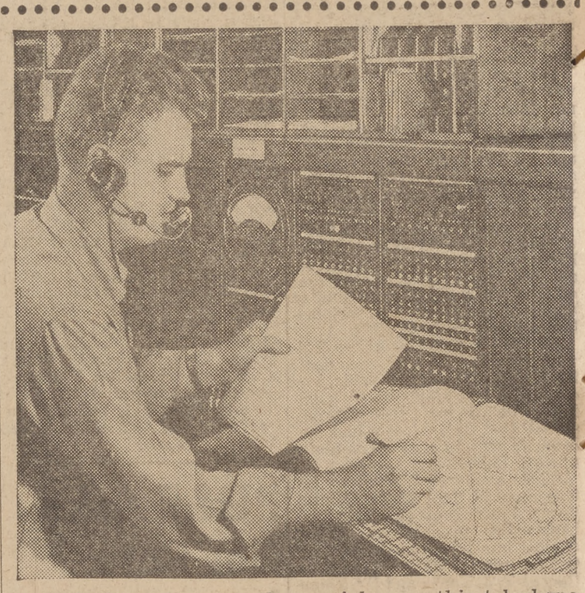
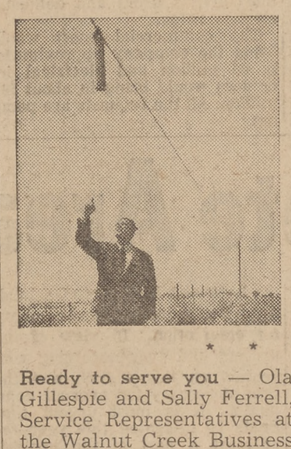
WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda



I doubt if you've seen the special maps this telephone man is looking at. It's a sure bet you won't find them in your youngsters' school books. But maps like this are mighty important to us. They show the routes of telephone lines here in town—above the streets and underground, too. If our instruments see a sign of trouble, these maps help repair crews track it down in a hurry. We plan ahead this way so we can fix troubles before they affect your service.

* * * * *



Could be that you've noticed cans like these hanging from telephone cables. If so, you've probably wondered about them. Well, they're weights to keep cables from "dancing" in the wind. Know how your clothesline gets whipped around on windy days? If we let this happen to telephone lines, it might loosen the poles. So these weights keep the wind from playing tricks on us.

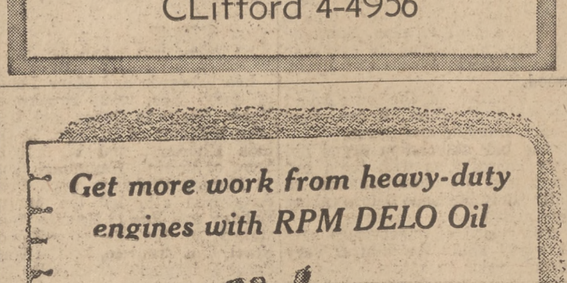
Ready to serve you — Ola Gillespie and Sally Ferrell, Service Representatives at the Walnut Creek Business Office are ready, willing and able to help you with your telephone requirements.

Over fifteen hundred people each month in the Walnut Creek area come to the Business Office for help with their telephone requirements.

Whether it is just an additional listing in the directory you need, or a completely new and modern telephone system for home or office, friendly and helpful service awaits you. Next time you have occasion to come in, ask about our new telephones in color!



A foot in the door... with vitamins

If a peddler rings your bell and tries to sell you some vitamins, here's something you should bear in mind. He's a trained salesman. He'll sound convincing. But chances are he's not a physician or a pharmacist. He's no judge of your health, and there's no way he can know what sort of vitamins or nutritional supplements you need—if you need any at all. So, it's just common sense to get professional medical advice before you spend your money.

Work, Talent, Thought Go Into County Road Study

The work, talent and thoughts of six agencies are being coordinated in the Contra Costa County City-County Thoroughfare Study now getting under way to map highways of the future and the most important of these is "the people themselves."

Supervisor Ray Taylor, Chairman of Supervisorial District III today thus summarized a public "Help Plan Your Highways" program that is being launched with the mailing of 160,000 questionnaires to registered automobile owners to establish traffic patterns and thus protect rights of way of the future.

"THE SUCCESS of the work of the five other agencies is completely dependent on public response to these questionnaires," Supervisor Taylor said. "As far as we know this is the first time that the public itself has been asked to give information and thoughts on highway development for years to come. Our expanding population, expanding industry, expanding commercial ventures demand immediate attention. Every response by a motorist will make a contribution to the future."

In addition to the public, Supervisor Taylor said that the participating agencies in this comprehensive program are the State Department of Public Works, the County Department of Public Works, the County Planning Department, engineers of eleven municipalities and the Tudor Engineering Company.

"ALL OF their knowledge and skill will not reach potential if they lack comprehensive traffic pattern reports," Supervisor Taylor said. "That responsibility lies with the citizen and his response to the questionnaire.

"I most strenuously urge all recipients to make immediate response."

Victor W. Sauer, Director of the County Department of Public Works, declared that the study "ignores political boundaries and jurisdictions."

"IT IS DIRECTED to the future needs of people, irrespective of where they reside now, and of the County as a whole," Sauer said. "This is an effort to eliminate any guesses. It is an opportunity for people to express themselves with the facts.

"The intent is to reach a balanced road network that considers State highways, County highways and City streets for the benefit and future prosperity of the County.

"It also considers remedying any defects in the present system. In an all out effort to do a necessary job for Contra Costa I join with others in urging citizens to make prompt response to their questionnaires," he said.

Trustees Weigh Plans for H.S. In Tice Valley

Acalanes High School District trustees met last night at Acalanes High School with the district architect and Stanford Education consultants to discuss plans for the new high school to be built on property now being purchased for the district in Tice Valley.

The session was in progress as this issue of The Sun was going to press.

The Stanford Education consultants have been meeting with the district staff and recognized experts in the educational field to work out "educational specifications" and modifications and additions determined by school trustees, the district architect will design plans "that will allow the best educational utilization of every feature of the new school," according to the district board.

Trustees received copies of the Stanford Education consultant group's recommended "educational specifications" for the Tice Valley School at their Tuesday meeting at Acalanes High School.

In other action Tuesday, trustees adopted a revised course of study for the district schools, approved repairs at Miramonte High School and the completion of an access road around the athletic fields of the Orinda campus and rejected as "too high" bids for installing a heating unit in the Acalanes library.

'Uncle Harry,' Suspense Play, Will Be Given

Tickets are now on sale for the Dramateurs' fall production, Thomas Job's "Uncle Harry," a three-act drama, which will be given at the Berkeley Little Theater October 11, 12, 18 and 19. Curtain time for each performance will be 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained in advance by phoning Paul Pollaczek in Orinda, or the book department of Hink's department store in Berkeley. They will also be available at the box office the nights of the performances.

"Uncle Harry" is a suspense play with a "different" angle, whereby the author reveals his murder's identity in the first scene and then proceeds to follow that murderer through the commission of a perfect crime.

The attention of the audience is held taut by the building of evidence by which the wrong person is convicted of the crime.

The play will be directed by Carl Rasmussen. Assistant directors will be Betty Reynolds and Mary Tokich.

Taking the lead as Uncle Harry will be Eddie Woltz.

The supporting cast includes Peg Stanislawsky as Hester, Helen Blankenburg as Lettie, Jean Henderson as Nona, Diane Davis as Lucy, Jane Steele as Miss Phipps, Jim Harris as George Waddy, Gary Lawrence as D'Arcy and Mr. Burton, Bob Swenning as Albert, Pete Duffy as Blake, Colon Brown as Ben, Robert Harrison as Mr. Jenkins and Americo Chiarto as the governor.

Owing to the increased acting membership of the group, the Dramateurs are now planning to give three major productions a year.

Following the fall production in October will be a winter play on February 21, 22 and 28 and March 1 and a spring play on May 23, 24, 30 and 31.

Christmas Bureau Plans To Accept Toys, Oct. 15

The Christmas Bureau of Mt. Diablo Valley is seeking the early cooperation of all civic, church, school and fraternal organizations to help plan a happier Christmas for the needy families of the community, according to Mrs. Robert Weeks of Lafayette, acting chairman.

She said, "The purpose of the Christmas Bureau, which works closely with the County Welfare Department and the American Red Cross, is to discover the needs, certify the worthiness of recipients and act as a clearing house to avoid duplication in giving."

In the past, many individuals, churches, schools and other organizations were duplicating help to needy families at Christmas.

EIGHT YEARS ago the Christmas Bureau was set up under the sponsorship of the Junior League and the American Red Cross to compile the names of those in need and to provide each group who wished to help an opportunity of doing so.

This year the Bureau has asked organization with regular annual programs of giving to register immedately.

It will assist any person or group who wishes to plan a Christmas project involving gifts or food.

Those seeking information may cal the Volunteer Bureau, Mrs. William Beckett Jr.; Mrs. Lawrence Hudson, or Mrs. H. D. Welch.

THE BUREAU will accept cash contributions to be used for food baskets, clothes and gifts. From October 15 to December 1, fire Moraga and Lafayette and the American Red Cross in Walnut Creek will accept wheel toys, dolls, other toys and books new or in excellent condition.

Due to the limitation of facilities and manpower, the firemen are unable to make extensive repairs. Those seeking pickup service may call Mrs. Robert Angell, Jr.

The Executive Committee of the Christmas Bureau includes Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, honorary Chairman; Mrs. Robert Weeks of Lafayette, acting chairman; Mrs. John V. Hook of Pleasant Hill, secretary; Mrs. Arch M. Favors of Lafayette, publicity chairman.

Mrs. H. D. Welch of Danville, Danville representative; Mrs. Nancie B. Keane of Walnut Creek, buying and packing; Mrs. William Beckett, Jr. of Orinda and Mrs. Lawrence Hudson of Danville, needs and resources.

Newcomers to Threaten Vet Speed Drivers

With the hardtop racing season drawing to a close at Contra Costa Speedway, some of the younger drivers are breathing down the necks of the veterans, say observers.

Nelson Snow of Richmond is one of the newer crop of drivers to take charge at the Walnut Creek track. Last week end he whipped the field in the main event and this Saturday he'll be out to repeat.

There is a chance that Hugh Purdy, Santa Rosa ace, may return to his favorite Bay Area track and then, of course, Snow's job will be that much harder. Last time he was out at CCS Purdy took the special 50-lap main event and set a one-lap record of 15.87 seconds.

Business statistics professor finds

"Gas and Electricity cost less than in 1936!"

Professor William Spurr, of the Stanford Graduate School of Business, has made a study of the cost of living in California. His findings show that while the over-all cost of living has doubled since 1936, the average cost of a unit of P. G. and E. gas and electricity is down below 1936 levels.

Your increased usage has made mass production economies possible. Your total bill may be more because you're using more appliances, but the average prices you pay are far less.

These facts point out an important advantage to living in California. With gas and electricity so cheap, you can afford to live better . . . to let gas and electricity do more of your housework and bring you more of life's pleasures.

Live better—gas and electricity are cheap in California

SHEAFF PREDICTED that local school district taxes will probably continue to rise because of the services required for the constantly increasing school population. He told of certain state requirements, such as construction standards, which must be met by school authorities.

Lewis pointed out that entrance requirements at Stanford University and the University of California are being stiffened right along.

HE MENTIONED that with the exception of football, Miramonte will compete in varsity sports this year. Football is being played on a junior varsity level—but next year, when the senior year of study is added, making Miramonte a full four-year high school, varsity football will be played.

'Sister Day' Held by Girls At Miramonte

The Miramonte Girls' League started its activities for the year with the annual "Big and Little Sister Day" last week.

The girls ate on the front lawn, where "old" students furnished lunches for the new girls, and ice cream was served by the league.

After lunch the league members gathered in the gym for a short assembly. Bonnie Minor, Girls league president, welcomed them and commented on coming events. Donna Lane, as mistress of ceremonies, introduced the entertainers.

The "Big and Little Sister Day," according to Bonnie Minor, "helps a new student get acquainted with an older girl who assists her throughout the year."

Other Girls League events have been planned, including a party in November, Slave Day in January, a dance in the spring, several meetings, guest speakers and assemblies.

Voters Decide; Its Moraga PO At Rheem Center

Sixty-five per cent of the people in Moraga and Rheem areas want just one post office, want it to be called the Moraga Post Office, and want it to be located at the Rheem Center, a mile and a half north of the Moraga townsite.

This is according to a formal poll taken last week by Rheem Center merchants and Moraga Valley Community Club members.

They had expressed their dissatisfaction with having two post offices for their single area, which is a geographical unity.

The Moraga Post Offce has been at School Street and Moraga Highway, and the Rheem Post Office in the Rheem Center. They together serve about 350 residents.

The results of the poll have been sent to Sixth District Congressman John Baldwin, and U. S. Senators William Knowland and Thomas Kuchel. It will be up to the legislators to take it from here.

The polls were conducted under the direction of Jack Winther, president of the Moraga Valley Community Club and Frank Kerrigan, president of the Rheem Center Merchants Association.

Booster Card Sale Under Way At Miramonte

Miramonte High School's "Booster" card sale is now in progress. Cards defray expenses of the student treasury.

The cost of the Booster Card is $5 for the year for all home games in football and basketball.

The three classes are competing for total amount of sales. The winning class king and queen will reign at the "M" Football Dance October 18.

Nominees for kings and queens are Dixon Farmer and Sue Holmes, juniors; David Rhoda and Sue Henry, sophomores; Bobby Rochester and Tina Coles, freshmen.

Oak Springs Lot Sale Approved

The proposed sale of 150 lots in the Oak Springs district of Orinda owned by Attorney Nathan Gray was approved by Judge Hugh Donovan had, last June, denied the county's plea for a preliminary injunction to prevent sale of the property. At that time the court dissolved a temporary restraining order obtained by the county June 7 to block Gray's sale set for June 8.

Judge Donovan sustained a demurrer filed by Gray and his attorney George Gorden of Martinez, contending the attempt by the county to prevent sale is the type of suit reserved by law to the real estate commissioner.

The county contended the lots are smaller than permitted under county zoning laws and the roads in the 30-year-old subdivision do not conform with those on the original subdivision map. Some lots are pie shaped, the county claimed with road frontage too narrow to permit access by automobile.

Grey stated the lots won't be offered for sale until next spring because of the weather.

Church Women To Hear Talk About Mexico

Missions in Mexico will be the subject of a talk by the Rev. Greer Taylor at the first fall meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, on Wednesday.

Auxiliary members will attend the 10 a.m. service of Holy Communion, after which they will gather in the undercroft for a short business meeting, at which officers for the coming year will be elected.

Mr. Taylor, who is assistant professor of Christian ethics and philosophy of religion at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, has recently returned from a summer sojourn in Mexico and will base his talk on his personal observations.

A social hour at which refreshments will be served will follow the speaker. Hostesses for the coffee hour will be Mesdames Ernest W. Fallentine, Clyde Coggins and John Den Dulk.

Nursery care will be available in the basement of the rectory from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Heifer Project Exhibit Will Launch Fund Drive

Heifer Project Inc. — a movement which results in the sending of cattle, goats, sheep, pigs, horses, burros, bees, rabbits, chicks, turkeys and ducklings to lands where large populations are hungry — will have a special "day" at Orinda Community Church Sunday.

An exhibit of typical animals used by the project will be on display from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the parking lot of the church Sunday.

The animals will be exhibited through the cooperation of the Contra Costa County 4-H Club members who own the animals.

ALLAN GRANT, farm leader and owner of a large dairy in Vi-salia, will speak at the church school Sunday. He will tell of his experiences in taking a shipment of heifer calves to Japan a few years ago for the Heifer Project, Inc.

The local phase of the project has been planned by the World Service Committee of the Orinda Community Church. This is the second year of support of the project by the local church group.

Last year, $16 was sent through this group to the project headquarters in Modesto; $100 of this amount purchased two Saanen goats, which were sent to Panama. The balance of the money was used to send baby chicks to Panama.

ACCORDING TO Sydney A. Anderson, chairman of the church's World Service Committee, money for support of the project will be collected during the next two weeks—from this Sunday through October 13. Contributions may be sent to the Orinda Community Church, 10 Irwin Way, Orinda.

In the American Trust Company window in Orinda is a display depicting the Heifer Project, Inc., activities. This display will continue through Sunday.

Members of the World Service Committee of the Orinda Community Church are Sydney A. Anderson, chairman; J. J. Stanley, William E. Vaught, Mrs. Mary Grah, Mrs. Anne Copenhagen and Mrs. Catherine Blossom. Advisory members of the committee are the Rev. Chauncey Blossom, Jack Biersdorf and Mrs. Elaine Hafner.

Board Delays Davison Action

At suggestion of Planning Commissioner Arthur Young, the County Board of Adjustment is delaying action on the application of W. J. Davison for a variance permit to maintain two lots as recorded for building sites of less than a half-acre on the east side of Los Conejos approximately 120 feet south of Vista Drive.

The decision to delay pending further study by the county planning staff was announced Tuesday night at the County Planning Commission meeting in Martinez. Young was a member of the Adjustment Board which heard the matter September 11.

Garden Club To Tour Homes

The October meeting of the Orinda Garden Club will be in the form of a tour of homes and gardens at seven Belvedere residences next Thursday — four on the bluff and three at the lagoon.

Mrs. Fred Crawshaw, club president, asks that members wishing to go on the tour meet at the Orinda Country Club at 10 a.m. Thursday. The trip to the Marin County community will be by car.

After the tour the members will lunch at the San Francisco Yacht Club at Belvedere.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Julian Unruh, vice-president and program chairman of the club.

Now Is the Time for Action! Let's Complete the Freeways

It's time to think of highways again . . . but it is also time to DO something about our highways.

It may seem silly to talk about additional highway construction with such a large percentage of our roads torn up now, but remember, these things take time, and the traffic situation is getting more congested each day.

Which highways are we talking about? The most obvious weak links are the Orinda - Lafayette section of the Diablo Freeway, and the Walnut Creek to Danville project and the Pleasant Hill - Concord stretch of freeway.

We strongly urge the California Highway Commission and the State Division of Highways to complete these sections before other work is started in this area.

We urge that funds for completion of these sections be included in next year's budget.

These sections of highway are long past the planning stage. The Division of Highways knows where the freeways will go, and all that is necessary for their completion is time and money.

But they are three very important sections of freeway to our area, and need for their completion cannot be minimized.

As each new section is completed, the load on the unfinished portions grows heavier, and these portions become more of a bottleneck.

With the Walnut Creek Bypass well under way, it is time to get to work on the remaining links.

What can we do about this?

The California Highway Commission usually adopts its budget for the coming year in the fall. Therefore, now is the time to speak up.

We urge all individuals and groups in Central Contra Costa County to write to the California Highway Commission, Sacramento, Calif., and ask inclusion of these projects in the 1958-59 budget.

The Contra Costa County Commuters' Association, the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation and all improvement associations are certainly affected. The Diablo Highway Improvement Federation has already made its wishes known, and the other groups should do likewise.

The organized units in our cities—Concord and Walnut Creek, including the chambers of commerce—should go on record asking for completion of these units.

Our governmental agencies, which are, after all, working for the taxpayer, should make their wishes felt.

And equally important, we as individuals should do our part with a letter to the proper authorities.

It takes only a few minutes of time and a 3-cent stamp to go on record, and it can play an important part in the outcome.

Unanimity of opinion is highly respected by the state highway authorities in laying out a future program, and therefore all letters from individuals and groups are meaningful contributions toward the desired goal.

So act now, while there is time, and do your part to help complete our freeways.

Will Doyle's Political Star Rise or Fall?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Most of us have followed Assemblyman Don Doyle's political career with interest. Remember when the Republican Assembly selected Don to carry its banner in the race for the California Assembly? Since then Don's star has risen high.

I've always been amazed at Don's ability to gain support of so many democrats, as well as republicans—and the labor vote, as well as business. Don didn't remain a "freshman" assemblyman long, he soon became a power in the lower house with important committee posts. Last year he was elected state GOP vice-chairman.

Someone tried to "get" Doyle with the so-called "textbook" expose. It hurt him some on the state scene but not enough to "get" him. Don's future continues to look bright—unless he gets caught in the middle of the big republican party battle that is under way.

Doyle chooses a side

I should re-phrase that because he is already in the middle of the fight. His future looks bright—if Governor Knight wins or the GOP battle is solved peacefully. Doyle is a Knight supporter. He makes no bones about it. That Don's immediate future is firmly linked to Goodie Knight was made crystal clear two weeks ago.

Doyle and Mrs. Frances Larsen, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, let loose with a blockbuster at a director's meeting of the State GOP Assembly. You probably read the headlines in the city papers.

Doyle called upon Senator William Knowland to "announce at once his decision not to run" for governor. Otherwise California will be placed on the "Democratic chopping block," and it would be party suicide if Knowland runs against Knight.

Doyle criticizes Knowland

Doyle is extremely critical of Knowland's frank statement in support of right-to-work legislation. Doyle terms Knowland "an extreme conservative with views increasingly repugnant to labor." Doyle's letter hits hard — whether you agree with him or not. It took courage to write the letter.

Don's political future is at stake. He wants to step up to chairman of the Republican Central Committee, the big party job. He has indicated he wants this post, rather than to run again for assembly.

Of course, if Knowland and his powerful team have anything to do about it, Doyle will not get the job. If Knowland runs and beats Knight, Doyle's GOP standing will come down to zero—on the state level.

The question still remainss will he run for assembly if he doesn't get the state GOP chairmanship? I think he will. Don likes politics. He can be reelected easily. I don't see why he would pull out.

Meanwhile, a batch of republican aspirants for the assembly post are ready to run. And some democrats, too.

How about you?

Why don't you run for something, dear reader? U.S. Senator? Governor, attorney general and other state offices! Congressman, assemblyman, supervisor (district 3), district attorney sheriff, justice of the peace!

It should be an interesting election. Why don't you run?

Letters to The Editor

FLUORIDE TABLETS
Dear Editor:

In regard to Mrs. John Jeffrey's letter printed August 23, 1957, I wish to align myself with Mr. Robert Kahn in his protest of September 13.

Mrs. Jeffrey's letter contains the following statement: "The Water Department of New York City, in its open statement, reveals that flouride tablets could be bought by the city and offered free to those who want it, at the small cost of about 'less than 25 cents for a thousand days for each child'.

From this statement, and from the last paragraph of her letter, I would infer that there is a product containing sodium fluoride available to the general public in a form which would permit people to treat their own water. Such a product is not available in the two pharmacies in Orinda, and when I checked two weeks ago, the pharmacists did not know of any such product.

I have not checked further into the availability of tablets, since I was only interested in learning whether they were available to the public in my area, because, being a chemist, I have access to the sodium fluoride and equipment necessary to measure the minute quantities required for proper dosage.

The fact that I am presently treating my children's water with this chemical does not make me any the less in favor of fluoridation of the public water supply for two reasons:

1. All of the water intake of the child should contain the fluoride, and this is not easily accomplished without mass fluoridation because the child drinks a considerable amount of water away from home—at school, for instance.

2. The public should not be denied the benefits of this material because of their own apathy and/or lack of skill when protection is available at such moderate cost.

Mrs. Jeffrey has unintentionally given an indication in her letter of just how low the equipment cost is on a per capita basis. She quotes an open letter from the city manager of Schenectady, New York, as follows:

"Corrosion of fluoride in pumps and pipes and replacement of this equipment will cost between $25,000 and $30,000."

The population of Schenectady in 1951 was 91,785, so the annual equipment cost is only 27-33 cents per person, hardly an exorbitant price to pay for the benefit of strong, cavity-free teeth.

TEASING
Dear Editor:

I have taken so much teasing since the article on Democratic candidates appeared in your Friday, August 23 issue that I feel I have to set the record straight.

It is true that I told your reporter that I was not a candidate at this time, and that I thought for that matter that it was too early for anybody to announce, but it is not true that I bit his head off in saying this, as the brief notation makes it appear. We had quite a friendly conversation as I recall.

DAVID N. BORTIN

WASTE PRODUCT?
Dear Editor:

Mr. Robert Kahn is desperately trying to sell artificial fluoridation—but he can't disprove the fact that fluorides are indeed a by-product. See March 24, 1952, Congressional Record, where the Hon. A. L. Miller, an experienced M.D., says it is a "waste product from aluminum manufacture." Even the State Dental Directors admitted in their "4th Annual Conference" that "there is more fluoride being thrown away in industries than the whole country will ever use in fluoridating."

Mr. Kahn employs the old fluoridationist tactic of accusing opponents of "quoting out of context" in an effort to discredit them without having to answer the charges or offer proof of same. He picks out a single item from my letter of August 23 which quotes from an article in Chemical Week, and by claiming I quoted out of context, attempts to discredit all the statements I have made in your paper. He then goes steaming ahead and quotes only two negative paragraphs in the entire article which are unquestionably "out of context."

Mr. Kahn can make protests until doomsday but it won't alter the fact that Chemical Week printed that very revealing article with a large title on its cover "FLUORIDATION CATCHES ON: EQUIPMENT & CHEMICAL MAKERS READY SALES PUSH." One of my quotations is a part of the subtitle and is certainly not out of context. It reads "Only 1% of the nation's water is now treated thus the market potential has chemical makers goggle eyed." . . .

"Beneficiaries: Standing to benefit from the boom are chemical companies and equipment firms." This is what I quoted and it is certainly not out of context.

In addition to ALCOA it named seven chemical companies and 6 equipment firms. The only two negative paragraphs in the entire article were quoted by Mr. Kahn, which pointed out that the boom wouldn't add up to a bonanza for fluoride or equipment makers.

But why did he stop there? The article continued with its next concluding sentence: "Nevertheless, it adds up to a nice piece of business on all sides, and many firms are cheering the USPHS and similar groups on as they plump for increasing adoption of fluoridation." . . .

MRS. JOHN JEFFREY

DOCTORS
Dear Editor:

In your August 16 issue Mr. Leland attempted to smear Doctors F. B. Exner and G. D. Waldbott, co-authors of "The American Fluoridation Experiment". He quoted a Dr. George Dore as stating that Dr. Exner "twists facts to suit his own needs".

If Dr. Exner wer as unscrupulous as Mr. Leland would have you believe, would the medical doctors of Seattle elect Dr. Exner president of the Kings County Medical Society, as they did?

Would the good doctors of Washington State, who knew his position on fluoridation, elect him to the House of Delegates of the Washington State Medical Association by the largest vote ever cast for a delegate in Washington?

Dr. Waldbott, an eminent physician of Detroit, is the founder and former head of allergy clinics of five hospitals in Detriot, is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and a member of A.M.A.

He introduced bronchoscopic lavage, a life-saving measure in bronchial asthma, wrote a book on contact dermatitis and has published over 125 medical papers, to name a few of his qualifications.

Mr. Leland's attempt to discredit him by quoting a rather crude remark by a health officer appears to be a feeble effort. Such attacks are typical of the propaganda methods of the U.S.-P.H.S. . . .

As far as the book itself is concerned, Dr. Exner's portion was originally published in the highly reputable Northwest Medicine, the medical journal of the physicians of Washongton, Oregon and Idaho, and received wide acclaim. . . .

Who Cares How? It's There!

By NORMAN COLBY

Who cares how it got there, just so it's there!

That will probably be the viewpoint of many boys who take part next year in the Walnut Creek Junior Leagues baseball program concerning their new ball diamond.

And that's natural for kids.

BUT RESIDENTS of the entire county were amazed during the summer just ended at the way Walnut Creek folks, especially local contractors, "got into the game" when the single diamond in the city park proved incapable of handling 600 boys and four leagues.

Perhaps they will remember that it would usually cost more than $40,000 to build a new diamond, dugouts, and put up fencing in the area across the creek, used for years as the city's sewer farm.

Prospects were dim until members of the "hard core" organized the Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association. The group was eventually able to subscribe more than $1500 to the work. But more important, it was able to get help where it counted most.

The main job was completed free of charge by volunteering contracting and transportation companies which responded to association urging.

THEY WENT to work leveling and filling to grade the 4¼ acres donated by the city. The "finishing touches" were not as easy as the term implies, but they were completed by Association members in time for league play this past summer.

It's probably true that visitors to the new diamond and parents of the participating boys will say to themselves: "Who cares how it got there, just so it's there!" but those who helped out will get their reward.

You see, they like to see young men developing through competitive sports!

The honor roll: E. S. Bertagnolli Grading and Paving Company, Gallagher and Burk, Henry J. Kaiser Company, Al Pereira Excavating, Granzotto Trucking Company, Fred von Guenthner Company, L&H Excavators, H. W. Gentry, Alta Fence Company, Walnut Creek Aggregates Company, and Athletic Association members, including Mel Alamano, president.

IN LAFAYETTE, similar cooperation resulted last year in two baseball fields for the Lafayette Youth Association. Both these fields were used the past two summers by the enthusiastic youth baseball teams.

One field is Mattson Field at Acalanes High School. It's adjacent to the regular high school diamond and is named after Erwin Mattson, Acalanes coach and Sun sports editor.

The other field is Hageman Field at Lafayette Grammar School. It is named after Jack Hageman, who is active in many civic and youth endeavors.

Thus, in Lafayette as well as Walnut Creek, cooperative efforts—donations of money, materials and services—resulted in space for youth baseball.

Workshops Planned by Council of Churches

Nearly 500 Sunday School teachers and adminstrators are expected to attend three workshops of Board of Christian Education of the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches in Walnut Creek next month.

The in-service education program is part of a leadership training plan to meet the problems of large Sunday School attendance and the need for recruiting staffs.

Two-hour night sessions will be held at the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue, on October 14, 21 and 28.

Three key persons in Bay Area Christian education and research will address the sessions. Professor James B. Pritchard, Ph.D., Church Divinity School at Berkeley, will speak on "How Archaeology Helps Our Understanding of the Old Testament," October 14.

Reverend G. A. Casady, D.D., First Congregational Church, Palo Alto, will speak on "How Children Worship" at the second session.

Mrs. Muriel James, B.D., Orinda Community Church, will speak on "The New Testament's Commission—Go Teaching."

Eight experienced Sunday School officer and instructors will lead workshop discussion panels, arranged according to age group interest from pre-school through administration.

Leaders will include Mrs. M. J. Votruba, Oakland; Miss Margaret Porter and John McKinley, both of Walnut Creek; Miss Maude M. Weber, Alamo; Mrs. Robert Rodemayer, Berkeley; Wayne A. Hayden, Mrs. Byrle Peterson and Mrs. Jane Dorn, all of Pleasant Hill.

Central Contra Costa Council of Churches, consisting of 24 member churches, is affiliated with the Northern California - Nevada Council and the National Council of Churches. Nobel F. Justice is president and Reverend Irvin Askine, executive secretary. Both are from Walnut Creek.

The member churches include the following:

Danville Presbyterian; the First Christian, Methodist, Presbyterian and St. Michael and All Angels' Episcopal churches of Concord; Lafayette Methodist and Lafayette - Orinda Presbyterian; First Congregational of Martinez.

Community, Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran, and St. Stephen's Episcopal churches of Orinda; St. Andrew's Presbyterian and Hillcrest Congregational, Pleasant Hill; Congregational and Methodist churches, San Ramon Valley.

Community Baptist, First Assembly of God, Methodist, Presbyterian; Re-Organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, St. Luke's Lutheran, St. Mark's Lutheran, St. Paul's Episcopal churches, all of Walnut Creek.

Advance registration for the October workshops is being handled by Board of Christian Education members for each church.

Salvation Army Has New West Commander

Lieutenant Commissioner Samuel Hepburn, a veteran Salvation Army leader experienced in operations of the Army in the west, has been appointed commander of the Western Territory of the United States.

Mary Lou Ball Weds Dick Leaver

Mary Lynn Ball became the bride of Richard Haines Leaver recently in Carmel Mission at the Blessed Sacrament Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank A. Hagarty of Lafayette and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leaver of 12 Crest Road, Lafayette.

Reception followed the wedding at the Mark Thomas Inn in Del Monte.

Jacqueline Fraser of Orinda was maid of honor.

Albert E. Leaver Jr. stood as best man with his brother. Ushers were T. Michael Ball and John B. Ball, brothers of the bride.

Orioles Set Fund Party

The pool and spanish-style patio garden of the Addison Thompson home on Glorietta Boulevard in Orinda will be the setting tomorrow for a first-of-the-season fund raising event by members of Orinda Orioles Unit 1 to benefit the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

The social gathering, to commence at 4:30, will be under the party chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Stringer who will be assisted by Mesdames D. M. Davidson, R. C. Dver, Mark Snover and Marvin Kennedy.

The hostess, Mrs. Thompson, is the unit president and returned early this week from an Alaskan holiday with her husband.

Audubon Group Plans Meetings Open to Public

A regular meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society has been postponed one week so as not to conflict with the opening date of the Audubon Screen Tours at Junior College.

The meeting will be held October 10 at Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek, in science room 209.

Mario Menesini, science instructor at Las Lomas, will speak on Marine Biology.

Menesini and John Bruce, science instructor at San Ramon High School and society program chairman, are making a trip to the Tomales Marine Biology Station to collect live specimens especially for examination at this meeting. The meeting is open to the public.

At 8 p.m. Thursday the auditorium on the east campus of the Junior College, Bert Harwell will show films and relate his tour through "Forgotten Country," an area between the Rockies and the Sierra.

These meetings are also open to the public.

Mr. Beverly Wilder will be the leader for the monthly field trip of the local society to be made October 6.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT THE CO-OP

WHY IS THE CO-OP COMING TO WALNUT CREEK? Because many of our members moved into this area and asked us to provide a shopping facility for them. They felt many of their friends and neighbors would also like to see the Co-op come. A rather thorough market research study was made which convinced us that Central Contra Costa was a good cooperative community.

WILL PRICES BE COMPETITIVE? Absolutely. We expect to be as low as the lowest in the area.

WHAT QUALITY MEATS WILL BE CARRIED? U.S. Department of Agriculture Grade CHOICE. Properly aged. Well trimmed. With all per-lb. prices showing.

WHAT BRANDS OF GROCERIES? A variety of advertised brands, PLUS our own CO-OP LABEL merchandise. Co-op Label comes in three grades, each clearly labeled and described with price differences according to grade.

And, we will have almost everything available on the market — from Anise to Zucchini, including such things as Jerusalem Artichokes, Celery Root, Bean Sprouts, Green Ginger, Water Chestnuts, Oyster Root, Papayas, Mangoes.

AND HARDWARE-VARIETY? We will carry those things most adaptable to self-service. Others, like heavy appliances, power equipment, paints, etc., will be available on order.

WHAT OTHER SERVICES WILL BE AVAILABLE? A Kiddie Korral for pre-school children, without charge. A health plan. A credit union. A Memorial Association. An insurance service. A home economist on a consultant basis. And anything else a sizeable number of our members and patrons would like.

The Sun's Annual Fall Home and Garden Edition

Trees Give Color Show In Autumn

Though California is traditionally known as a "land of no seasons," California gardeners know there are seasonal changes in the various sections of the state and, in fact, they choose plants to announce these new seasons.

For fall interest, trees are selected that put on a glorious color show before dropping their leaves or that add colorful berries when fall arrives.

To add seasonal color, the following trees are suggested:

THE MADRONE tree (Arbutus Menziesii), a broad leafed evergreen, is well known and liked for its form and handsome red bark.

Western Larch or Tamarack (Larix occidentalis) is less well known but no less handsome than the Madrone. It grows in an upright, graceful, branching habit. In fall its foliage turns to clear gold and it sheds short, satiny, pale green needles.

Three trees often planted for fall color, the Sweet Gum, Chinese Pistache and the Madenhair tree, are all very hardy plants in California.

EXPERTS AGREE that the Chinese Pistache (Pistacia chinensis) produces the most vivid red to orange autumn hues of any cultivated tree in California.

It has soft, finely textured foliage and produces small flowers and fruit.

The Chinese Pistache will withstand heat, drought, wind and frost, to make it a fine plant for coastal or valley areas through the state.

THE SWEET GUM (Liquidamber Styrraciflua) normally grows to 60 or 80 feet, but may reach 100 feet in certain areas of the state.

If height presents a problem to you, consult your nurseryman regarding the height which you can expect your Sweet Gum to attain. He may recommend shaping your tree to control growth.

It has a pyramidal form and maple-like leaves which change to scarlet and wine-crimson in November.

A BEAUTIFUL and very well behaved performer, the Maidenhair tree (Ginkgo Biloba) has no root, frost or moisture trouble and enjoys a long life.

Its fan shaped leaves resemble Maidenhair Fern in veining and range from pale green to brilliant gold in the fall. Plant only the male tree.

The Maidenhair is slow growing and graceful, requiring little care when fully established.

Fertilizing, Spraying-- Basis of Good Gardening

The cornerstones on which successful gardening is built are fertilizing and spraying.

In Fertilizing, the gardener facilitates plant growth by adding to the soil needed nutrients; with spraying he seeks to control pests and diseases that would destroy plant growth.

A fertilizing program must include the application of organic matter and a complete fertilizer containing sufficient amounts of nitrogen, phosphorous and potash.

ORGANIC MATTER, which is lacking in most home gardens, can be supplied with the addition of peat, compost, leaf mold, animal material, kitchen waste, dead leaves, etc., that will loosen the ground and, in breaking down, contribute essential materials.

Organic matter enables the soil to hold more water and it is the only source of vital humus.

Apply organic matter as mulch around flowers, trees and shrubs where you cannot cultivate; in areas where you can till the soil lay down two or three inches of organic material and over it a complete fertilizer of good grade, 25 to 40 pounds per square foot. Till it down to a 6 or 8 inch depth along with the organic debris.

IF SUPPLEMENTARY feeding is necessary, in the case of iron chlorosis, for instance, you may apply a fertilizer directly on the foliage with a spray or add material to the soil.

If supplementary feedings continue to be necessary it would be best to add fertilizers regularly that contain the extra needed minerals in addition to the usual primary essentials.

In maintaining a regular spraying program the gardener will find he has less trouble, pest and disease-wise, if he has organized his planting so that all plants have light and air.

THE WORST garden insects during fall can be wiped out with mixtures of malathion, lindane and DDT.

Early Fall Is Good Time to Seed Lawn

These early fall weeks are a most favorable time to seed a lawn.

Prepare the seedbed according to your nurseryman's instructions before sowing the seed. Water regularly till grass becomes "bushy" and about 3 inches tall.

In four weeks or so from planting time you should be able to mow your lawn. Allow soil to become firm and fairly dry before mowing to avoid damaging with mower-wheels.

Oleanders Are Familiar Sight In Many Areas

Familiar sights along California's highway system, oleanders are lovely garden attractions in all warm regions of the state.

The more sunlight, including reflected sunlight, they receive, the more bounteous the crop of lovely blooms.

They are excellent as background and screening shrubs.

THERE ARE TWO botanical species which are familiarly called "oleander;" the popular nerium oleander and the less known but very attractive Yellow Oleander (thevetia nereifolia).

The round-headed Yellow Oleander thrives best in the coastal hot areas, while the nerium oleander proves highly successful in the hot interior valleys as well as on the southern coast.

The nerium oleander is a sturdy shrub which grows normally as a many-stemmed bush, one that can be pruned as a multiple-stemmed tree, similar to the multiple-trunked olive tree. The attractive foliage consists of long, feather-shaped, dark green leaves.

NERIUM OLEANDERS are available in many named varieties.

Local nurseries each have their favorite named types in many colors, including single or double whites, pink, salmon, yellow and red.

The nerium oleanders bloom profusely from May or June through October, while the Yellow Oleander blooms from June to November.

Color to Garden

You can maintain a colorful garden even into the fall months with wonderful fall blooming annuals, such as Violas, Pansies, Lobelia, Fairy Primrose and Stock.

Each year new varieties and hybrids of these flowers and other annuals are introduced, making new colors available for your garden.

Perennials--Accessories To Garden's 'Wardrobe'

If a garden can be said to have a wardrobe, then it might follow that the trees and shrubs are its basic ensembles, while the perennials serve as accessories to give color and interest.

Perennials correctly planted can give a garden a distinct personality of its own.

The perennial group is a large one, but ther are several species that are particularly outstanding in California gardens.

Pelargeniums (or geraniums) bloom in some of the brightest colors in the flower kingdom — pinks, fuchsia, orange, salmon, scarlet, vermillion, purple, bronze red.

Some new name varieties include Li'l Abner, salmon coral blotched dark brown; Bonita, lavender veined dark maroon, and Corsair, semi-dwarf, vermillion.

Delphiniums bring horizontal flower beauty into a garden. Delphiniums are available in blues, lavender pink lilac, royal purple, raspberry and white, in the Pacific Giants, Bellamosum, Belladonna and Chinese types. Al malke fine cut flowers.

Baby's Breath (Gypsophila) offers delicate, miniature flowers that will fill in gracefully between the more obvious perennials.

Baby's Breath (Gypsophila) offbranching flower to 3 feet, blooming in white or pink and as a miniature trailer wth white or pink flowers.

"Bluebells, cockle shells . . ." goes the child's song and Bluebells are another lovely summer perennial.

The Bluebells or Bellflowers (Campanulas) are low-growing starry flowers in white, pink and blue. They make wonderful subjects for window boxes, pots and hanging baskets.

Try "dressing up" your garden with other perennial favorities, too, such as the blue or white flowers of the Agapanthus, the many shades of Asters, the whites and yellow of Marguerites, the orange-red Red Hot Poker (Tritome).

Perennials will need regular watering and some feeding, according to the species you plant.

Most perennials will benefit by some pinching and pruning.

Protect young plants from birds with wiring laid over the plants; place bait for slugs and snails.

Stop by your local nursery soon and choose several perennials to add color and interest to your garden wardrobe.

Your nurseryman will have a wide variety of species in bedding plant. He can also supply you with fertilizer and pest controls. phier, all members of Jobs D

Orchard Nursery Open House Set For Oct. 5, 6

The need for a garden flower to bridge the gap between petunias and zinnias and the large showy mums that bloom in November is nicely filled by the cushion variety of early chrysanthemums.

In addition, the early mums have the added attraction of gloriflying the garden with bouquets of blooms before rains and frost set in.

Ranging in color from chartreuse Maestro through all shades of yellows, oranges and reds to deep violet Twinkie, early mums will be one of the features of the Open House to be held at Orchard and Sunday, October 5 and 6.

Another feature of the Orchard Nursery Open House (which has now become an annual event) is the African Violet Show, displaying the largest collection of these plants to be seen anywhere in the West.

The public is invited. Admission is free.

Mums Announce Fall's Arrival

It's hard to imagine a fall garden without chrysanthemums, for this hardy perennial offers a most colorful way to announce autumn's arrival.

Chrysanthemums are planted widely throughout the state because they are extremely easy to care for and are so rewarding in performance.

Many mums have already begun to bloom. Young plants of these varieties and of other varieties just ready to bloom can be obtained from your local nurseryman.

Caril McCallum, Ken Johnson Betrothal Told

The betrothal of Carol Anne McCallum to Kendrick A. Johnson was announced recently by her parents at their apartment in San Francisco.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almon Bryon McCallum of San Francisco, is a graduate of the Sarah Dix Hamlin School and attended the University of California.

The future benedict, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beers Johnson of Orinda, was graduated from the University of California, where he was affiliated with Alpha Delta Phi, and has entered on a business career in San Francisco.

Following the announcement, Carol Anne returned to the family country home at Pebble Beach, where she will spend the fall months.

Local Women Prepare for Tour de Decors

Headed by Mrs. Victor Bergeron of Orinda, a group of local women is selling tickets to the second "Tour de Decors,,, sponsored by the Women's Board of the San Francisco Museum of Art, November 4 through 10.

Mrs. Harry Jackson of Happy Valley, Lafayette, and Mrs. Richard Ward of Lafayette are in charge of tickets. Helping them are Mrs. Lloyd Swayne of Happy Valley, Mrs. William Lindberg of Lafayette, Mrs. Murrey Johnson of Hidden Valley, Lafayette, Mrs. George D. Simpson of Orinda and Mrs. Edmund Barnett, Mrs. Oliver D. Hamlin, Mrs. Paul Samson and Mrs. Chauncey Pond of Lafayette.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Marshall Shapiro of Orinda had a tea at her home for the Orinda and Lafayette ticket committees.

Eighteen of the Bay Area's leading interior decorators and eleven fashion stores will combine their facilities and talents to present again this unique tour which achieved national attention when in 1955, the Women's Board of the museum dreamed up the idea.

Ground Covers Solve Many Landscape Problems

By THE GARDENER

GROUND COVER provides the ideal solution to many tricky landscaping problems.

Probably the most notable problem is the sunny slope. Drying conditions on sloping ground prevent grass from flourishing. This difficulty is doubled when the slope basks in the sun all or most of the day.

The California Association of Nurserymen recommends four excellent ground covers to home owners who must cope with sunny slopes.

THE FOUR ARE prostrate junipers, Ice Plant, trailing lantana and ivy.

Each has individual recommendations.

For texture and year-round color interest, the low-growing junipers are unequaled.

JUNIPERS are evergreen and hardy throughout California and require little care.

One of the most popular spreading junipers is Tamarix Juniper, a delightful blue-green foliaged, slow-growing plant, while Waukegan Juniper is one of the most handsome and distinctive varieties.

Other spreading varities to consider for sunny slopes are Shore Juniper, Sargent Juniper and San Jose Spreading Juniper.

ICE PLANT (Mesembryanthemum) is widely used as a soil binder where cuts have been made in hillsides for roads.

It has also proved useful in keeping coastal sand dunes under control.

These two uses illustrate the Ice Plant's extreme hardiness and ability to get along on poor soil with no care.

THESE PRACTICAL qualities and this ground cover's great beauty make it one of the most popular in the state.

Ice Plant is a suculent with tiny daisy-like flowers in many colors; all colors, in fact, except blue. When in bloom, it provides a lovely deep rich carpet of color.

This is, however, a no-traffic carpet, because it is rather deep for walking upon. Some varieties are improved by periodic cutting back.

TRAILING LANTANA (lantana sellowiana) is a low, rapid growing ground cover with handsome greyish-green foliage and lovely fragrant lavender-pink flowers.

This heat-loving plant is hardy to 24 degrees but is often used in areas which receive temperatures below that because it repairs frost damage easily.

A yearly cutting back or thinning is required to keep trailing lantana from getting woody stems.

VARIOUS VARIETIES of ivy have long been popular as ground covers.

These small, rapid growers can be set approximately two feet apart.

Some varieties perfer partial shade, but most will do quite well in full sun.

ENGLISH IVY (hedera helix), which is available in many leaf forms and sizes, has proven especially useful as ground cover because of its speedy growth.

Forms of English ivy with variegated markings in white and yellow can prove very useful when a light contrasting effect is desired.

The lovely dark-green Algerian Ivy (hedera canariensis) has been found to be especially suited to warm climates. This species is also available in variegated form.

GROUND COVERS have become increasingly popular in recent years because they require relatively little care.

Most ground covers are deep-rooted plants requiring less water than the usual garden subject.

This helps to explain their usefulness on the sunny slope landscape.

The Sun's Annual Fall Home and Garden Edition

Climate of Home Is Mental Health Play's Subject

A special preview performance of "Scattered Showers" will be offered to members and the public by the Central County Mental Health Association and the Central County County Council of Church Women.

This half-hour play will be performed by the "little theater" group of the Council of Church Women at 8 p.m., Tuesday, in the Oak Park Elementary School multi-purpose room, 3108 Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

It will be followed by a discussion period led by trained discussion leaders from the Mental Health Association.

This is one of a series of plays that have been developed by the National Association for Mental Health with The American Theater Wing in New York.

They deal with the "climate of the home" as created by parents in their relationships with their children and "Scattered Showers" is particularly concerned with the pre-school age.

After the performance, "Scattered Showers," and others of the series as they are cast and rehearsed, will be made available for other groups to engage for their own programs.

Those wishing to pre-view the play in anticipation of arranging for a showing to their own group are specailly urged to attend to contact the coordinator of plays, Mrs. Pat Brooks.

Persons interested in joining the "little theater" group should phone Mrs. Grace Heiges, director.

Mrs. Brooks said that "where these plays have been performed, they have found to be enthusiastically received because they are really "good theater" and "real entertainment."

Information about other programs and services of the local Mental Heatlh Association may be obtained by contacting the executive secretary, Mrs. Catherine Long.

Grid Contest 7 Win Prizes In Diamond K

Diamond K Supply's annual football contest had an auspicious kickoff, judging by initial results last weekend.

Glenn Zimmerman, 3621 Chestnut Street, Lafayette, guessed 19 correct in last week's list of 20 collegiate and professional games..

So he wins $15 in merchandise orders at Diamond K Supply. That's second prize. Nobody scored a perfect 20, which would have resulted in $25 in merchandise orders.

Each of the following six picked 18 correct, and so they share equally the third prize of $5 in merchandise orders: Len Ferro, 1087 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette; Ed Baumgardner, 1310 El Curtola Boulevard, Walnut Creek; Paul Dekar, 1929 Meadow Road, Walnut Creek; Larry Somerton, 3474 Hamlin Road, Lafayette; W. D. Hoover, 3364 South Lucile Lane, Lafayette, and W. E. Bradbury, P.O. Box 313, Lafayette.

IN LAST WEEK'S Diamond K list, three of the games were ties—Arizona-Brigham Young, Vanderbilt-Missouri and Washington-Colorado. Therefore whichever team was picked, for any of these three games, counted as a correct guess.

Another "free" correct guess was afforded by this paper's error in specifying the last game on the last. The game was listed as "Northwestern vs. Rhode Island." That was erroneous. It should have been "Northeastern vs. Rhode Island." So no matter how contestants guessed for the last game on last week's list, their choice was considered correct.

Thirteen contestants guessed 17 correct each—just one short of being prize-winners.

EACH WEEK Diamond K Supply offers up to $45 in merchandise orders as prizes in the Football Contest. For complete details and rules, see the Diamond K advertisement in this issue.

A list of 20 collegiate and professional football games scheduled for the weekend is published each week. Entries with predictions marked must be turned in to Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, or postmarked before 11 a.m. Saturday. In case of tie, the prize is divided equally among winners.

For 20 correct guests, the prize is $25 in merchandise orders. For 19 correct guesses, the award is $15 in merchandise orders. Eighteen correct guesses result in $5 in merchandise orders.

Dr. Reinke, in reporting on the past year's accomplishments, cited the efforts of thousands of volunteers in the county which are contributing to steady progress of the County Branch.

He pointed out that the development of units in various areas of the county had resulted in more efficient utilization of volunteers, as well as greater interest and enthusiasm in the group.

Guy F. Spencer of Walnut Creek, campaign chairman, reported that total contributions during the past year were $52,614, an increase of $17,000 over any previous year.

Art Center's Party Will Really Sparkle

Members of the Valley Art Center have received invitations to the organization's fall benefit party, "Champagne and Blue Velvet", scheduled for Saturday, October 12, in the colorful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cashin, 1611 Orchard Lane, Walnut Creek.

The late afternoon affair, from 4 to 7 pm, will feature a showing of distinguished modern jewelry and a tasting of sparkling California champagnes contributed by three leading California vintners.

General Chairman J. Gordon Ainsworth, Orinda, stated that the party promises to be a greater sellout than the successful "Mosaic and Wine" benefit in June at which an attendance of 500 was reached. He urged members to reserve invitations for themselves and their friends early. Deadline for reservations was set at October 5.

Mrs. Irving Roemer, Lafayette, ticket chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth and Mrs. Arthur Sassone, both of Orinda, and Mesdames Peter Howard, Robert Clough and Arthur Wagstaff, all of Walnut Creek. Donations are $3 per couple, and tickets must be secured in advance of the party by calling members of the ticket committee or mailing in a reservation to Mrs. Roemer, 3783 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette.

General Chairman Ainsworth announces that champagne will be served by Weibel, Paul Masson and Almaden wineries from 4 to 7 pm.

The exhibition chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Wiillam Wilkinson, Orinda, stated that an impressive showing of modern jewelry is being secured through the Metal Arts Guild. Kay Lane, Berkeley, will show a collection of ancient Egyptian beads acquired on a recent visit abroad, as well as finished jewelry combining these carved antique stones with gold.

Dr. David Harris, Danville, a hobby jeweler, will exhibit set stones in gold and silver rings.

Deadline for ticket reservations is October 5.

Social committee members assisting Mrs. Frank Cardin, Lafayette, in charge of arrangements, include Mesdames Lyle Lund, Howard Stafford, Frank Malley, George Monheit, John Ornduff, Rawlings Simon and Philip Merrill, Lafayette; Mrs. Frank Cashin, Walnut Creek and Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth and Mrs. Arthur Sassone, Orinda.

According to Mrs. John Ellis, chairman of the Permanent Art Center committee, the purpose of this function and the recent "Mosaic and Wine" benefit sellout is to provide funds for a permanent building where Diablo Valley residents may have an opportunity to view the best in art.

PH Ram-St. Mary's Game Off--Flu

Nine Players Show For Practice After Livermore Win

The Pleasant Hill Rams posted a win in their opener last Friday but have a bye tonight as the flu bug hit the school and spread to such an extent that the scheduled game with St. Mary's High was moved to November 5.

Last Tuesday found 683 absent from the school and when only nine players showed at practice the game was postponed.

COACH HAL BRIGGS did announce though that two players will move up because of last Friday night's play and the addition of a new player in that he is out for the first time this season.

Senior Al Fittenhuff up from last year's Junior Varsity goes to first string and linebacker on defense.

Bud McKenna, a senior tackle, who won a reserve last season goes to the top tackle spot.

Bill Dutton reported to the squad for the first time this season and will be used as a defensive half and an offensive end. A veteran of last year, he is figured to end up as a regular.

The Pleasant Hill High School Rams won their first game of the season last Friday night when they defeted the Livermore High School Cowboys by the score of 12 to 7.

ALTHOUGH playing without the services of their first-string quarterback, Dud Buffa, who was sidelined most of the game due to illness, the Rams were very capably led by Ron Shepherd, a sophomore, who will prove to be of valuable assistance in future games.

Halfback Tom Larscheid scored the first touchdown in the opening quarter on a four-yard, off-tackle play. The try for point was missed, leaving the score 6-0 as the quarter ended.

The second, and what proved to be the winning touchdown, came just before halftime when fullback Roger Leonard intercepted a Cowboy pass and ran 72 yards for the score.

Again the try for point was missed, and the half ended with the score 12-0 in favor of the Rams.

THE COWBOYS managed to get on the scoreboard in the third quarter with a 60-yard drive, ending with a 17-yard run for the TD. Livermore made their try-for-point, and the third quarter ended with the score 12-7.

Livermore made a try for another score in the fourth quarter. However, time ran out while they were still trying to connect with a long pass.

The final score was 12 to 7 in favor of the Rams.

THE STARTING lineup for the Rams included John Pratt and Warren Millham at ends, Butch Crowder and Bernard Dathe at tackles, Tom Foley and Don Jackson at guards, Tony Bean at center. In the backfield were Ron Shepherd at quarterback, Dan Ipson and Tom Larscheid at halfbacks and Roger Leonard at fullback.

The co-captions for the first game of the season were Warren Millham and Tony Bean.

Knights Rip Wolves Apart In 40-0 Gridiron Tussle

The Las Lomas Knights came home this week after having scored a one-sided 40-0 win over the San Ramon Wolves last Friday night in a practice game at Danville.

Tonight marks the second and final practice tilt as the Knights face Piedmont under the lights of the Walnut Creek field.

PIEDMONT dropped its opener 12-6 to Oakland High and while they figure to give the Knights more opposition than San Ramon High did, it still looks like a Knight win.

Coach George DeKlotz's eleven was impressive in the opener both offensively and defensively and must be definitely considered as pennant contenders when league play gets under way next week.

Three players have been out with the flue, Roger Cowell, Ron Broatch and Rick Kraemer.

End Britt Williams is still out with a knee injury and it's a question mark as to when he will return.

DeKlotz was well pleased with his club's showing in their opener and announces but one change in the starting lineups.

CLARK RANSOME, a 6' 2" 205 pound transfer from Los Gatos, goes in at end in place of Dick Dodge, sidelined with a game mishap.

DeKlotz hopes to do a bit of polishing of both his defense and offensive units for next week's league opener with Pacifica.

Piedmont mentor Bob Muenter is noted for his well drilled clubs but will have his hands full if his team is to cope with the capable and ready Knights.

The Knights rolled on the ground and through the air to crush San Ramon. It was 284 yards on the ground and 47 in the air on 2 completed passes on four tries.

Tackle Dave Weill was a standout with his all-around play as was end Dodge.

The Knights backs had a field day as they tore off hunks of yardage with great consistency.

Halfback Pete Ostrom rolled for 115 yards on five carried while fullback Duane Brown racked up 45 yards on eight tries. Halfback Cecil Brown totaled 48 yards on 10 carries and halfback Don Fazio went 48 yards on a half dozen tries. Halfback Jim Hemstalk had a five yard average with 30 yards on six times with the ball.

PETE OSTROM opened the scoring when he shot through tackle for 12 yards and a score in the opening counter.

Duane Brown cracked the end zone on a four yard sweep of left end and end Dick Dodge took a 13 yard pass from quarterback Steve Moore to make it 20-0 in the first quarter.

Adams hit over tackle for six yards and a score in the second quarter and when the conversion try misfired it was 26-0 and that is the way it ended at the half.

In the third quarter the Knights really sewed up the game when Ostrom ripped off a 64 yard touchdown and Adams hit for six points from four yards out.

Both conversions were good and it was 40-0 and that's the way it wound up as reserves hit on even terms the rest of the way.

League Play Opens Next Friday Nite For Prep Elevens

Next Friday night finds the Contra Costa Division of the Diablo Valley Football League opening and on the basis of showing to date it looms as a battle between Pittsburg, Diablo and Las Lomas.

Chances are that some of the other clubs will hit a high along the way and pull upsets that could go a long way toward deciding the final standings.

Junior varsities play a parallel schedule opening the night play in preliminary games starting at 5:45 with the varsity play opening at 8. The team with the bye will play Miramonte.

Play next Friday finds Pacifica at Las Lomas, Antioch at Acalanes, and Pleasant Hill at Pittsburg.

Diablo draws a bye in varsity play and their JVs tackle Miramonte in a 3:30 p.m. Friday game.

Coach of Viks Has Top Record With Jr. Colleges

Jack Danilovich is in his second season as head coach at East Contra Costa Junior College. He was born in Angel's Camp, California in 1910. In 1929, Jack graduated from Jackson High School and went on to St. Marys College where he starred as a center on the football team and played in the outfield on the baseball squad.

Jack's first coaching job in 1936 took him to Siskiyou County where he coached Weed High School's football and basketball teams. As head football coach, Danilovich ran up an enviable record of 27 wins in three years against three losses.

In 1940, Jack returned to Contra Costa County as head coach of Antioch High School, where his teams lost only ten games in ten years.

During his 10 years at Antioch, Jack produced such outstanding players as Gino Marchetti (Colts) and Duane Putnam (L. A. Rams).

With a record of only 13 losses in 14 years, he was named the first head coach of West Contra Junior College's Comets in 1950.

Since the West Campus of Contra Junior College opened its doors in February, 1950, Danilovich had no previous team from which to build.

Playing as an independent the first year, the Comets were not accepted into the Big 7 Conference until 1952 and wound up their first season with two wins and seven losses. In 1952, Danilovich's squad came off with runnerup honors, winning six and dropping three.

The League Championship in 1953 brought Jack's Comets an invitation to the Potato Bowl in Bakersfield, and in 1954, West Contra Costa lost one game in nine starts to tie Santa Rosa J. C. for the loop crown.

In 1955, the Comets completed the season with a five-three-none record, winding up fourth in the Big 8 Conference.

In his first year as head mentor of the Vikings, Jack's squad ran up a 5-3-1 record and tied Monterey for third place in the Coast Conference.

Jack is an active member of the Elks Club in Pittsburg. He likes to spend what spare time he has with his wife, Alice, and his three children.

Diane, 16, is a senior at Antioch High School; Joan, 14, is in the Ninth grade at Antioch Junior High; while John, 7, is in his second year at Antioch's John Fremont Grammar School.

CITY DRIVING

Although automobile engines are designed to operate efficiently at all speeds, continuous driving at slow speeds should be supplemented occasionally by a stretch of faster driving in the country. The engine's crankcase ventilating system is actuated by the air stream that passes under and around the engine and better ventilation is accomplished at higher speeds.

Matadors Hit By Flu Bug; Tilt Pending

The Miramonte football team playing in the league junior varsity schedule, as they have no seniors, were set to try their luck with a varsity schedule in the form of Cubbenly High down Palo Alto way today.

The issue was in doubt early in the week due to "ol' man flu."

THE NOT too deep ranks had been decimated somewhat early in the week and further losses might result in the dropping of the game.

Head Coach Don Phillips has been hard at work and reports that the second string line in particular has come a long way.

Bud Beolger, Jim Botto, Skip Nelson and Don McMacker have impressed with their play.

Dave Powell and Milt Blake have shone on defense while the backfield composed of Floyd Blaney, Bruce Hilger, have been working to good advantage.

Jim Roberts has moved up to right guard on offense replacing Mike Albo. Another player drawing comment for his play is halfback Bill Brown.

THE MIRAMONTE Matadors have just one practice game since they play seven league games and eight games is the limit, according to league rules.

The Matadors will be playing all day games as they have no home lights.

The Matadors have a freshman squad playing a four game schedule with the opener set for October 3 with Las Lomas at Miramonte at 3:30 p.m.

Forty-eight players were on hand early in the week under the watchful eye of Coach Bob Callan assisted by Jim Carmiachel and student coach Gary Lucas.

The squad is reported to be small in stature but big in spirit and hustle two very important factors in making for a winning season.

Vikings Drop First Game To Panthers

The Contra Costa Panthers scored once in the first quarter and again in the third to edge the Contra Costa Junior College Vikings, 13-6, Saturday night at Mt. Diablo High.

Although the Panthers failed to penetrate their own 40-yard line until the last part of the opening quarter, the offensive unit got together a drive which was climaxed by the scoring of halfback Mike Szymanski from 18 yards out.

Although the Vikings put on drives, they were handicapped by fumbles.

Excellent passing was displayed by quarterback Roy Johnson to end Jesse Lea.

The Vikings didn't score until the middle of the third period, when halfback Mike Blodgett of San Ramon went the final 15 yds.

The Panthers final score came on a pass from Denny Coffee to end Charlie Jackson. It covered 30 yards.

The point after touchdown was kicked by Bill Parnell.

Standouts for the Vikings were Laird Eichmeyer, Mike Hart, George Airoldo, George Darrow, Paul Johnson and Skip Anderegen.

Junior College Vikings will clash with the Orange Coast College eleven at Costa Mesa tomorrow at 8 pm.

This will be the second non-league game of the season for the Viks.

According to Coach Jack Danilovich, the Viking squad will be in tip-top shape for their first on-the-road tilt.

Team captains are George Airoldi and Laird Eichmeyer.

Acalanes Shows Weakness As Bulldogs Tromp 6-0

The Acalanes Don varsity football team takes to the road tonight for its second and final practice season game.

The Dons were picked by many as a power in the county league race but if the prediction is to ring true they are going to have to play a lot better ball than they did when they lost Friday night to the Alhambra Bulldogs who were anything but rough, yet won 6-0.

COACHES Jack Carhart and Buzz Williams have been installing some new offensive and defensive maneuvers which they hope will get the Don grid machine running on more than one cylinder at a time.

Halfback Jack Latone was picked as the Dons top player last Friday but will sit this one out due to a banged up knee. Rick Davis moves up to the starting spot and if he plays up to the potential would well fill the gap.

A pair of Mikes move up with Mike Kritscher getting the call as starting quarterback while Mike McCardle goes to a number one tackle spot.

Flue has hit a number of squad members but two returnees are Lou and Bob Marello who sat out last week's game with the bug.

CHANCES ARE it will take time for them to get back in the groove and their duties, if any, tonight will be in a limited capacty.

The Dons went into last week's game with a limited number of players and while their players have been increased stress has been on straightening out blocking assignments and timing.

Last Friday night's game with Alhambra under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field found both clubs short on offense and stressing defense.

Alhambra's lone score came with four minutes on the clock in the first quarter when Alhambra's speedy but small left half Richard McLaughlin took the pigskin through left tackle and hit for the outside and raced untouched to the end zone for a 23 yard run.

THE DONS' fullback Stuart Busby blocked the conversion kick.

Neither club put on much of a scoring threat the rest of the way outside of a third quarter when the Dons reached Alhambra's 10 only to fumble and the visitors' guard Don Bartsch recovered.

Alhambra accounted for 161 yards on the ground to 71 for the Dons.

McLaughlin was the Bulldogs' workhorse as he carried for 99 yards on 13 plays. Mike Latone was tops for Acalanes in the ground gaining department with 50 yards in 10 tries.

Don Babes Win While Ramettes Drop to Cowboys

The Acalanes Don Junior Varsity made its 1957 debut a successful one September 19 when they rolled to a 19-0 win over the Alhambra Bull-pups while the Pleasant Hill JVs had a bit of rough going in their opener Friday night at Livermore when they were topped 130.

The Don Babes played at Martinez and found the going to their liking as halfback Doyle Turner tore off tackle for 40 yards and a TD early in the game to give the Dons a lead which they never relinquished.

THE DONS' quarterback Don Nelson engineered a 15 yard drive in the second quarter and climaxed it with a quarterback sneak from six yards out to score.

Another touchdown and conversion made it 19-0 as the Dons held the Bullpups well in check with a stout defense.

In the Ram game the Livermore Cowboys rode to victory in a 77 yard run by Sam Gimsle and 50 yard trot by Dave Mueller plus a successful conversion try by Dave Houton.

THE ONLY Junior Varsity game on tap this week finds Las Lomas playing Piedmont High.

Next week the Junior Varsities open league play as prelims to the varsities starting at 8 p. m. Games on tap next Friday are Pacifica at Las Lomas, Antioch at Acalanes and Pleasant Hill at Pittsburg.

Diablo plays Miramonte in a 3:30 p.m. tilt at Miramonte.

Panther-Marine Game is Tomorrow; Benefits Kids

The Lafayette Youth Association will sponsor a benefit football game between the Contra Costa Panthers and the Marine Reserve tomorrow night at 8:15 on the Acalanes High School field.

The Panthers are a recently organized semi-professional team They have plans for entering the California pro ranks next year

According to Gordon McNulty, there will be many college stars and former pro players also in the game.

Tickets will be available from coaches, at the gate, and at Sport and Games, Walnut Creek.

During the halftime, there will be a touch football game between Parkmead School and Stanley School, pitting rival towns.

McNulty is chairman of the Lafayette Association, which will benefit from the Panther-Marine game. He and Ray Middlekauf arranged the game.

McNulty said, "The Association provides the summer baseball program for the boys has some bills to pay and needs money for next year.

Many hours of enjoyment were had this summer by the boys, and next summer even more youths will sign up.

"The Lafayette Youth Association and its sponsors have had to carry the full expense load since Lafayette does not have a recreation department," he said.

Admission will be 50 cents for students, $1.50 for adults and 25 cents for "small fry."
